Charlie Chaplin: The Little Tramp

Host Joel Grey presents Charlie Chaplin, a genius of the screen, in a compilation of great early films. The Tramp, The Rink and Shanghai'd are all works of art. The little tramp, turning from the camera and padding down the road into the horizon, is an image many will never forget. And neither will you, if this is your first glimpse of the Chaplin artistry. August 28

Joel Grey

Winner of eight Academy Awards, this brilliant tale of forlorn love has the rise of Nazism in '30s Germany as background. Liza Minnelli delivers a classic performance as the singer-dancer in love with both Michael York and Helmut Griem. Director Bob Fosse (All That Jazz) cleverly combines musical numbers with drama.

Two of the Oscars: Liza (Best Actress) and Joel Grey as "Emcee." Violence, adult situations, language. (PG-1:58) August 29
